

Institutional Recidivism: Veteran Affairs

Institutional Recidivism: Veteran Affairs is a biographical attestation of Institutional Recidivism and that recidivistic impact upon Veteran Health Care. You will read reticent responses in relation to the Recidivism written about in this book. I will use the words I am dared to say what I have to Reader When you think you have crawled into the darkest pit I will reach out to find you to hold onto you to guide you So you are not overtaken by that darkness and What that darkness conceals And what it steals... So you do not become blackened And Taken to a level Where you do not belong Reader This is where Things have been taken, stolen, and concealed making me fall below my level and making me rise above my level And I am waking up To know what I have been left without I am a blackened but an unbroken person and I continue to stand In that darkness I am alone but I am not by myself Inside this dark and cold To each, my thoughts and feelings are opposed Applying my will I am the one that writes every line and this is not for the taking Causing me to see something in nearly everything I do that drives me to further effort To retake the things that have been taken Douglas Spear
