

Musings of a Dysfunctional Life

Bringing clarity and understanding to our own dysfunctional lives, award-winning filmmaker, Victor Rook, recounts his childhood, teenage, and middle-aged years through both humorous and poignant recollections. Growing up in an abusive, dysfunctional family didn't give him much to laugh about, until he took time to write about it after the death of his mother. Ever find yourself shuffling through the discount DVD bin, or trying to put a number to your own level of sanity? From Scrapbooking for Dysfunctional Families to My Swivel Sweeper Moment to Crazy Thoughts, these short stories cover the gamut of life's musings: dreams, sex, innocence, religion, music, pets, ghosts, shopping, aging, and more.
