

Blood, Debt and Fears: Cartoons of the First Half of the Last Half of the Bush Administration

Jeff Danziger's cartoons of George W. Bush's second term in office are an entertaining excursion through the national and international political and popular-culture landscape. Danziger is an independent political cartoonist whose work appears in hundreds of newspapers around the world through the New York Times Syndicate. Danziger is a decorated Vietnam veteran, and his experience gives him a unique viewpoint on the current conflict. He possesses a singular wit and drawing style, and his funniest creations often lampoon the most deadly serious subjects. Danziger's take on current events is sure to impress, and might even change the way you view the world in which we live.
