

Grace Infusions: A Nurses Life: From the Crazy to the Heart Wrenching

A Nurses Life: From the Crazy to the Heart-wrenching I just read a book about a girl with a disfigured face who lived to adulthood and died, always searching desperately for grace and acceptance, yet never finding it in Christ. MaryBeth Seal is the opposite. She glimpses Gods grace reflected in even the most unexpected people and situations. She wants to be a grace-giver, not in a showy, ostentatious way, but in the commonplace encounters of ordinary life. Allow God to infuse your life with fresh grace as you read. Dr. Steve Fortosis It has been my privilege to work with MaryBeth on several different overseas mission trips. A capable nurse, her biggest asset is her huge heart. She speaks the international language of the heart; love. Dr. David Brown MaryBeth is a nurse I worked with at a mission hospital in Indonesia. She has a heart for serving the poor. It is a joy to know her and work with her. Dr. Steve Anderson
